1. Read the Job Description at beachboardwalk.com/jobs.

In your interview, we'll ask you if you read the job description. Doing so before your interview, shows us that you're ready and responsible!

2. Click here to see our Boardwalk "look book".

We have some standard policies around uniforms and grooming. Some is very specific to working at the Boardwalk. Make sure you're able to meet these standards before your scheduling interview.

3. Know your availability to work!

Before your interview, make sure you know what days and times you're available to work now and in the summer (check in with your family, if needed). The availability you give us will be considered in your interview, as well as given to your department (if hired).

When we need you: We offer the majority of our hours from Memorial through Labor Day, and on the weekends in the Spring, Fall and Winter.

The perfect candidate will: Be able to start working within 1-2 weeks of your interview, have a flexible schedule, and be available on the weekends and during the summer.

Have a vacation planned? If you need to, check with your family members before the interview to see if you have any planned vacations or events coming up where you may need to miss work.

Have another job or classes to attend? For most positions, as long as you can work weekends and summer holidays with us we'll be able to accommodate your schedule.

4. Answer our call!

We'll call you on the phone number you provide when you schedule your interview. If you're unable to talk to us at the day and/or time of your interview, make sure you let us know in advance so we can reschedule you. For your interview, find a quiet and private place so we can make sure we can hear clearly how fabulous you are!

5. Be ready to talk about yourself!

Be ready to talk about your work history and volunteer experience. Remember – babysitting and helping your family is good experience too! Tell us about that. Maybe you don't have any job experience – that's ok! Most of the positions we hire for, are entry-level and we will teach you how to be a great employee. Did you ever lead a group project at school? Are you a part of any clubs or teams that you can tell us about? This is all great information to bring up at your Boardwalk job interview.
